Q.1) Ans: D

Exp:

- Dr. Rajendra Prasad was unanimously elected the permanent President of the Assembly on 11th December 1946 under temporary chairmanship of Dr. Sachchidananda Sinha.
- The Objective Resolution was adopted on January 22, 1947.
- The National Flag was adopted on July 22, 1947.
- Ratification of India's membership of the Commonwealth was done in May, 1949.

Q.2) Ans: A

Exp:

- Statement 1 is correct: The Indian Independence Act, 1947 empowered the Constituent Assembly to legislate till the new Constitution is drafted and enforced. No Act of the British Parliament passed after August 15, 1947 was to extend to Dominion of India, unless it was extended thereto by a law of the legislature.
- Statement 2 is incorrect: The dual task of making the Constitution and legislation continued till November 26, 1949 (the date of adoption of the Constitution), when the task of making the Constitution was over.
- Statement 3 is correct: On January 24, 1950, the Constituent Assembly held its final session. It did not end and continued as the provisional parliament of India from January 26, 1950 till the formation of new Parliament after the first general elections in 1951-52.

Q.3) Ans: D

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: The Objective Resolution resolved to proclaim India as an Independent Sovereign Republic. Even the original Preamble did not contain the words 'Socialist' and 'Secular' which were added by 42nd Constitutional Amendment Act, 1976.
- Statement 2 is correct: The Objective Resolution proclaimed that "all power and authority of the Sovereign Independent India, its constituent parts and organs of the Government will be derived from the people of India".
- Statement 3 is correct: The Objective Resolution proclaimed to provide adequate safeguards for minorities, backward and tribal areas and depressed and other backward classes.

Q.4) Ans: A

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: The Preamble provides liberty of thought, expression, belief, faith and worship.
- Statement 2 is correct: The term 'liberty' means the absence of restraints on the activities of an individual. It does not mean the absence of laws as liberty cannot be achieved without laws as laws would establish rule of law in the country.
- Statement 3 is correct: Liberty provides opportunities for the development of an individual personality.
- Statement 4 is correct: Liberty is essential for successful functioning of democracy as it would not place restrictions on an individual in terms of his/her innovations.

Q.5) Ans: A

Exp:

- Option A is incorrect: In a Republic, the head of the State is always either directly or indirectly elected for a fixed period. In India, the President is indirectly elected for a term of five years.
- Option B is correct: The term Republic signifies that the political sovereignty is vested in the people of the country.
- Option C is correct: The term Republic also signifies that the absence of any privileged class and hence all public offices are opened to every citizen without any discrimination.

Reference: Laxmikanth

Q.6) Ans: D

Exp:

- Option 1 is correct: Article 17 provides for abolition of untouchability and thus aims to remove social disabilities imposed on certain sections of the society.
- Option 2 is correct: Article 38 directs the State to secure a social order for the promotion of welfare of the people and thus promotes social justice.
- Option 3 is correct: Article 39A directs the State to promote equal justice and to provide free legal aid to the poor.

- Option 4 is correct: Article 42 provides for just and humane conditions of work and maternity relief.
- Option 5 is incorrect: Article 49 directs the State to protect monuments, places and objects of artistic or historic interest which are declared to be of national importance. Thus, it is not related to social justice, rather it is a liberal-intellectual principle.
- Option 6 is incorrect: Article 50 directs the State to separate the judiciary from the executive in the public services of the State. Thus, it is a liberal-intellectual principle.

Q.7) Ans: B

Exp:

- Statement 1 is correct: The Preamble has been amended only once so far by 42nd Constitutional Amendment Act, 1976. At that time the Prime Minister of India was Mrs. Indira Gandhi.
- Statement 2 is incorrect: The Supreme Court in the Kesavananda Bharati case held that the Preamble is part of the Constitution.
- Statement 3 is incorrect: The original Preamble did not include the words 'Secular', 'Socialist' and 'Integrity' which were added by the 42nd Constitutional Amendment Act.

Q.8) Ans: D

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: The term 'Secular' was added through the 42nd Constitutional Amendment Act, 1976.
- Statement 2 is incorrect: Indian model of secularism is called the soft model of secularism. It provides for a porous wall of separation between State and religion, i.e. state can intervene in religious matters to give progressive voices within every religion and to allow disagreement with some aspects of religion, e.g. abolition of Sati, Hindu Code Bill, Untouchability etc. However, religion is strictly prohibited in state matters, hence disallowing mobilising of electoral support on religious lines. On the other hand, the French model of secularism is called the hard model of secularism that provides for strict separation of State and religion.
- Statement 3 is correct: Article 15 and 16 prohibits State from discrimination on the ground religion and Article 44 provides for uniform civil code and thus promotes secularism in India. Other Articles of the Constitution that promote secularism are Article 14, 25, 26, 27, 28.

Q.9) Ans: D

Exp:

Statement D is correct:

- Sarkaria Commission was set up in 1983.
- Lowering of voting age from 21 to 18 years occurred in the 61st Constitutional Amendment Act, 1989 for both the Parliament and the State Legislative Assembly elections.
- 73rd Constitutional Amendment Act, 1992 accorded the Constitutional status and protection to the Panchayati Raj Institutions.
- Kihoto Hollohon case or the Anti defection case occurred in 1993.

Hence, the correct sequence is 4-1-2-3.

Q.10) Ans: D

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: Constitutional Amendment Bills can be introduced in both the Lok Sabha or the Rajya Sabha. Hence, both Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha have equal powers with respect to the constitutional amendment bills.
- Statement 2 is incorrect: Elections to the Parliament and the State Legislature require a simple majority of the Parliament for its amendment. Hence, it lies outside the purview of Article 368 of the Constitution. Provisions that require special majority of the Parliament and ratification by half of the States (with simple majority) include:
 - Article 368 itself.
 - Election of the President and the manner of election.
 - Extent of executive powers of the Centre and States.
 - Distribution of legislative powers between the Centre and the States.
 - GST Council
 - Seventh Schedule
 - Representation of States in the Parliament.
 - Supreme Court and High Courts.
- Statement 3 is incorrect: There is no time limit prescribed in the Constitution for the ratification by the states.

- Statement 4 is correct: Changes in Salaries and Allowances of the MPs amounts to a Constitutional Amendment outside Article 368. It is done by the simple majority of the Parliament, like any other ordinary legislation.

Q.11) Ans: C

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: Indirect provision for elections was introduced in the Indian Councils Act, 1892. The Act provided for the nomination of non-official members for both the Central and the provincial legislative councils. In the Central Legislative Council, such members were nominated on the recommendation of provincial legislative councils and the Bengal chamber of commerce. In the provincial legislative councils, such members were nominated on the recommendations of district boards, municipalities, trade associations, Zamindars, universities, etc.
- Statement 2 is correct: Direct elections were introduced for the first time by the Government of India Act, 1919. It allowed franchise on a certain criterion of tax, property and education.
- Statement 3 is correct: Government of India Act, 1919 granted Franchise to a limited number of people based on property, tax, education
- Statement 4 is incorrect: Franchise to 10 percent of the population was extended as per the Government of India Act, 1935.
- Statement 5 is correct: Article 326 of the Constitution states "Elections to the House of the People and to the Legislative Assemblies of States to be on the basis of adult suffrage. The elections to the House of the People and to the Legislative Assembly of every State shall be on the basis of adult suffrage".

Q.12) Ans: B

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: It abolished the office of Viceroy and provided for the Governor General for each dominion, who was to be appointed by the British King. It abolished the right of the British monarch to veto bills.
- Statement 2 is correct: Governor General, in the name of His majesty, had full powers to give assent to the bills.

- Statement 3 is correct: It abolished the office of Secretary of state and transferred his functions to the office of secretary of state for commonwealth affairs.

The main provisions of the Indian Independence Act, 1947 are as follows:

- It ended the British rule and made India into a sovereign and independent state as on August 15, 1947.
- Caused the partition of India into two dominions of India and Pakistan, with the right to secede from the British Commonwealth.
- Abolished the office of Viceroy and provided for the Governor General for each dominion, who was to be appointed by the British King. He was the nominal head to act on the advice of the Dominion cabinet.
- Abolished the office of the Secretary of State for India.
- Ended the British paramountcy over the princely states

Q.13) Ans: B

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: The Charter Act of 1793 provided for the payment of members of the Board of Control charged to the company. Pitt's India Act, 1784 was instrumental as it provided for the creation of the Board of Control to look after the civil and military affairs. It separated the commercial functions from the administrative functions.
- Statement 2 is correct: The Charter Act of 1813 empowered the local government to levy taxes. Other provisions of the Charter Act of 1813:
 - Ended the monopoly of the company to trade with India. However, it still retained its monopoly over tea trade and trade with China.
 - Allowed Christian missionaries to propagate their religion.
 - A sum of one lakh rupees was set aside for the promotion of education.
- Statement 3 is incorrect: An all-white seven-member commission was established under the chairmanship of Sir John Simon to report into the working of Government of India Act, 1919. It submitted its report in 1930. The commission recommended the abolition of dyarchy at the provinces, establishment of All India federation of provinces and princely states, continuation of communal electorate.

- Statement 4 is incorrect: Ramsay MacDonald, British Prime Minister came with the Communal Award in 1932 which extended the system of separate electorate for the depressed classes. Mahatma Gandhi undertook fast unto death in opposition to the communal award and this finally culminated in the signing of the Poona Pact between the Mahatma Gandhi and Dr. B.R. Ambedkar. However, Lord Minto was known as the father of communal electorate after he came up with the separate electorate for the Muslims in the Government of India Act, 1909.

Exp:

The Indian Independence Act 1947 ended the British rule in India and declared India as an independent and sovereign state from August 15, 1947.

Statement 1 is Correct: designated the Governor-general of India and provincial governor as constitutional (nominal) heads of the states. They were made to act on advice of respective council of ministers in all matters

Statement 2 is Incorrect: It provided for the governance of each of the dominions and the provinces by the Government of India Act of 1935, till the new Constitutions were framed. The dominions were however authorised to make modifications in the Act.

Statement 3 is Correct: The Assembly also became a legislative body. In other words, two separate functions were assigned to the Assembly, that is, making of the Constitution for free India and enacting ordinary laws for the country.

Q.15) Ans: A

Exp:

- Statement 1 is Correct: It made the Governor-General of Bengal as the Governor General of India and vested in him all civil and military powers. Thus, the act created, for the first time, the Government of India having authority over the entire territorial area possessed by the British in India.

- Statement 2 is Incorrect: It ended the activities of the East India Company as a commercial body, which became a purely administrative body.

Q.16) Ans: B

Exp:

- Statement 1 is Incorrect: The Constituent Assembly was formed in November 1946 under the scheme formulated by the Cabinet Mission Plan.
- Statement 2 is Correct: The Constituent Assembly was to be a partly elected and partly nominated body. Seats allocated to British provinces were to be divided among the three principal communities—Muslims, Sikhs and General (all except Muslims and Sikhs), in proportion to their population.

- Statement 1 is incorrect- The Indian concept of Secularism is different from the western concept of secularism. In the West, the State is separate from the functioning of all religious institutions and groups. Whereas, in India means that the state is neutral to all religious groups but not necessarily separate. The Indian Constitution embodies a very positive concept of Secularism. Giving equal respect to all religions equally is one of the core components of Indian Constitution.
- Statement 2 is incorrect- The word 'Secular' was added in the Preamble of India by the 42nd Amendment Act of 1976 and was not a part of the original Constitution.
- Statement 3 is correct- Equality of opportunity for all citizens in matters of public employment- Article 16- reveals the Secular character of the Indian State. Article 16 says that no citizen shall, on grounds only of religion, race, caste, sex, descent, place of birth or any of them, be ineligible for any office under the State.

- Statement 1 is correct- The Indian constitution provides for an Integrated judicial system. The Supreme court is at the top below it there are high courts at state. Under a high court, there is a hierarchy of subordinate courts i.e., district and other lower courts. This single system of courts enforces both the central and state laws.
- Statement 2 is correct- The American constitution provides for the "due process of law" while the Indian constitution provides for the "procedure established by law". The "Due process of law" gives wider scope to the Supreme Court to grant protection to the rights of its citizens. It can declare laws violating rights void not only on substantive grounds of being unlawful, but also on procedural grounds of being unreasonable. On other hand our supreme court while determining constitutionality of law examines only whether law is within the power of authority concerned or not.

- Statement 3 is correct- The Emergency Provisions in the Constitution in Part XVIII of the Constitution of India, from Article 352 to 360 converts the federal structure into a unitary one without the formal amendment of the Constitution. The rationality behind the incorporation is to safeguard the sovereignty, unity, integrity and security of the country, the democratic political system and the Constitution.

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: The Right to Property was removed from the list of fundamental rights by removing articles 19(1)(f) and 31 of the Constitution by the 44th Constitutional Amendment Act, 1978. Presently, it is placed under Article 300A of the Constitution.
- Statement 2 is incorrect: Article 300A of the Constitution contains provisions Right to Property which reads that no person shall be deprived of his property except by authority of law. Hence, it does not form part of the Fundamental rights or the provisions that require amendment under 368 of the Constitution.

Q.53) Ans: B

Exp:

- Statement a is incorrect: The Constitution does not favour the monopoly or the accumulation of power under one institution. It rather promotes fragmentation of power among the various organs of government like the Legislature, executive and the Judiciary. The Constitution favours the system of internal checks and balances amongst these institutions.
- Statement b is correct: The 42nd Constitutional Amendment Act, 1976 inserted Fundamental duties under Article 51A in Part IV-A of the Constitution. However, the Constitution is silent on the enforcement of these duties. Hence, it does not make the enjoyment of rights conditional upon the fulfilment of the duties.

- Statement c is incorrect: Conduction of free and fair elections is essential for the functioning of a democracy. However, in the Indian case, citizens have a limited role in making policy decisions as Indian Constitution envisages indirect democracy and not direct. It would be unsuitable to have direct democracy for a vast diverse country like India. Hence, elected representatives play an important role in day-to-day policy decisions and running of administration.
- Statement d is incorrect: Judges are removed by the special majority of the two houses of the Parliament on the grounds of proved misbehaviour and incapacity. However, to ensure the independence of the Judiciary they are not accountable to the Parliament but to the Constitution itself.

Q.54) Ans: A

Exp:

- Statement 1 is correct: Those matters which in other modern democratic countries have been left to ordinary legislation or established political conventions have also been included in the constitution itself in India. The Constitution of India thus not only contains the fundamental principles of governance but also detailed administrative provisions.
- Statement 2 is incorrect: The political part of the Constitution i.e the principle of Cabinet Government and the relations between the Executive and the Legislature have been largely drawn from the British Constitution. This was largely because of familiarity with the system prevailing during colonial times.
- Statement 3 is correct: The Indian Constitution adopted universal adult franchise as a basis of elections to the Lok Sabha and the state legislative assemblies ever since enactment of the Constitution. The voting age was fixed at 21 years when the constitution was enacted. - Statement 1 is incorrect: One of the most sought-after details in any Union Budget is the level of fiscal deficit. It is essentially the gap between what the central government spends and what it earns. In other words, it is the level of borrowings by the Union government. One of the ways to do this is by resorting to "off-budget borrowings". Such borrowings are a way for the Centre to finance its expenditures while keeping the debt off the books — so that it is not counted in the calculation of fiscal deficit.

- Statement 2 is incorrect: Off-budget borrowings are loans that are taken not by the Centre directly, but by another public institution which borrows on the directions of the central government. Such borrowings are used to fulfil the government's expenditure needs.
- Statement 3 is correct: As a result, as a Comptroller and Auditor General report of 2019 points out, this route of financing puts major sources of funds outside the control of Parliament. "Such off-budget financing is not part of the calculation of the fiscal indicators despite fiscal implications," said the report.

NEWS : One of the most sought-after details in any Union Budget is the level of fiscal deficit. As such, it is keenly watched by rating agencies — both inside and outside the country. One of the ways to do this is by resorting to "off-budget borrowings".

Build-Operate-Lease-Transfer (BOLT): In this approach, the government gives a concession to a private entity to build a facility (and possibly design it as well), own the facility, lease the facility to the public sector and then at the end of the lease period transfer the ownership of the facility to the government.

- Pair 1 is incorrectly matched : Lease-Develop-Operate (LDO): Here, the government or the public sector entity retains ownership of the newly created infrastructure facility and receives payments in terms of a lease agreement with the private promoter. This approach is mostly followed in the development of airport facilities.
- Pair 2 is incorrectly matched : Rehabilitate-Operate-Transfer (ROT): Under this approach, the governments/local bodies allow private promoters to rehabilitate and operate a facility during a concession period. After the concession period, the project is transferred back to governments/local bodies.
- Pair 3 is correctly matched : DBFO (Design, Build, Finance and Operate): In this model, the private party assumes the entire responsibility for the design, construction, finance, and operate the project for the period of concession.

- Refurbishment of e-waste:
 - According to the E-Waste (Management) Rules, 2016
 - 'refurbishment' means repairing of used electrical and electronic equipment as for extending its working life for its originally intended use and selling the same in the market or returning to owner
 - A 'refurbisher' for the purpose of these rules, means any company or undertaking registered under the Factories Act, 1948 or the Companies Act, 1956 or both or district industries centre engaged in refurbishment of used electrical and electronic equipment
 - A recycler' - means any person who is engaged in recycling and reprocessing of waste electrical and electronic equipment or assemblies or their components.

- Some other important definitions in the E-Waste (Management) Rules, 2016
 - 'Orphaned products' means non-branded or assembled electrical and electronic equipment or those produced by a company, which has closed its operations;
 - Extended Producer Responsibility' means responsibility of any producer of electrical or electronic equipment, for channelisation of e-waste to ensure environmentally sound management of such waste. It may comprise of implementing take back system or setting up of collection centres or both and having agreed arrangements with authorised dismantler or recycler either individually or collectively through a Producer Responsibility Organisation recognised by producer.
 - 'Channelisation' means to direct the path for movement of e-wastes from collection onwards to authorised dismantler or recycler. In case of fluorescent and other mercury containing lamps, where recyclers are not available, this means path for movement from collection centre to Treatment, Storage and Disposal Facility;

- Pair 1 is incorrectly matched:
 - Recently, Ecuador's Sangay volcano erupted, spewing clouds of ash as high as 8,500 meters (about 28, 890 feet) into the sky. The sky of Riobamba, the capital of the province of Chimborazo, was overcast by an ash cloud. Riobamba is at least 50 kilometers away from the volcano.
- Pair 2 is correctly matched and pair 3 is incorrectly matched:
 - Both Sinabung and Semeru are located in Indonesia and recently erupted. While Mt. Sinabung is located in the sumatra province, Semeru is located in East java. It may be noted that Indonesia sits on the Pacific ring of fire and therefore is tectonically active constitution, “the president shall appoint a person who is qualified to be appointed as a judge of the supreme court to be Attorney General for India. “Hence the president is not mandated to appoint AG by a warrant under his hand and seal (unlike the CAG, the Governor and the Supreme Court and High Court Judge)

- The same article stipulates that the AG shall hold office during the pleasure of the president and shall receive such remuneration as the President may determine.
- Statement 3 is incorrect: Section 15 of the The Contempt of Courts Act, 1971, lays down the procedure on how a case for contempt of court can be initiated.
 - In the case of the Supreme Court, the Attorney General or the Solicitor General, and in the case of High Courts, the Advocate General, may bring in a motion before the court for initiating a case of criminal contempt.
 - However, if the motion is brought by any other person, the consent in writing of the Attorney General or the Advocate General is required.
 - Thus, The AG’s consent is mandatory when a private citizen wants to initiate a case of contempt of court against a person
 - However, when the court itself initiates a contempt of court case, the AG’s consent is not required. This is because the court is exercising its inherent powers under the Constitution (Article 129 and Article 215) to punish for contempt and such Constitutional powers cannot be restricted because the AG declined to grant consent.
 - The Supreme Court’s recent judgment in “Vijay Kurlle & Ors, being Suo Motu Contempt Petition (Criminal) No. 2 of 2019” settles the position that in suo motu criminal contempt cases, the consent of Attorney General is not required.

- US-Japan ‘CoRe’ Partnership
 - Recently, The US and Japan have pledged US$4.5 billion for a ‘Competitiveness and Resilience (CoRe) Partnership’ to be invested in the research, development and deployment of next-generation mobile networks (‘6G’ or ‘Beyond 5G’).
 - Crucially, the Competitiveness and Resilience Partnership will increase cooperation in emerging technologies – an area that has been typically dominated by China. It reflects a rapidly evolving effort by the Biden administration to develop new initiatives and bolster cooperation with allies across the Indo-Pacific, a region that has been identified by the US as consequential for the growth of high-quality infrastructure that will facilitate the expansion of emerging technologies.
 - This comes in the backdrop of Chinese ambitions to dominate the development of new age technologies such as 5G and quantum computing and the recent pledge to invest a mammoth $1.4 trillion in emerging technologies.

- Compulsory Licensing:
 - When the Govt. authorities license companies or individuals other than the patent owner to use the rights of the patent — to make, use, sell or import a product under patent (i.e. a patented product or a product made by a patented process) — without the permission of the patent owner - it is called Compulsory licensing.
 - Allowed under the WTO's TRIPS (intellectual property) Agreement provided certain procedures and conditions are fulfilled.
 - The Supreme Court recently asked the Central Government why it was not considering invoking the powers under the Section 92 of the Patents Act, 1970 for compulsory licensing, for drugs like Remdesivir, Tocilizumab, Favipiravar, which are used for treating COVID-19 patients.
 - Section 92 of the Patents Act is a special provision enabling the Central Government to issue compulsory licenses for the manufacture of patented drugs in a public health emergency.

- Section 100 of the Patents Act enables the Central Government to use patented inventions for government purposes.

- Options 1,2,4 and 5 are correct:
 - ONE HEALTH APPROACH
 - One Health is an approach that recognizes that the health of people is closely connected to the health of animals and our shared environment.
 - The areas of work in which a One Health approach is particularly relevant include food safety, the control of zoonoses (diseases that can spread between animals and humans, such as flu, rabies and Rift Valley Fever), and combating antibiotic resistance (when bacteria change after being exposed to antibiotics and become more difficult to treat).
 - The earth has experienced changes in climate and land use, such as deforestation and intensive farming practices. Disruptions in environmental conditions and habitats can provide new opportunities for diseases to pass to animals.
 - These changes have led to the spread of existing or known (endemic) and new or emerging zoonotic diseases, which are diseases that can spread between animals and people. Examples of zoonotic diseases include:
 - Salmonella infection
 - West Nile virus infection
 - Q Fever (Coxiella burnetii)
 - Anthrax
 - Brucellosis
 - Lyme disease
 - Ringworm
 - Ebola
 - Rabies
 - Nipah
 - Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome
 - Middle East Respiratory Syndrome

- The Distemper disease, caused by the CANINE DISTEMPER VIRUS, is not zoonotic in nature. Recently, several lions and leopards succumbed to the CDV in the Gir Forests of Gujarat.
