- Option 3 is correct: To secure equitable distribution of material resources of the community for the common good has been provided in Article 39 of Constitution. This has been cited by the Supreme Court during the verdict regarding coal blocks and Spectrum bands.
- Option 4 is incorrect: The 44th Amendment Act of 1978 added one more Directive Principle which requires the State to minimise inequalities in income, status, facilities and opportunities

Q.2) Ans: B

Exp:

- Statement 1 is correct: To promote equal justice and to provide free legal aid to the poor. It is one of the socialist principles provided in Article 39A of the Constitution.
- Statement 2 is correct: To make provision for just and humane conditions of work is socialist principle in Article 42.
- Statement 3 is incorrect: To promote cottage industries on a co-operative basis in rural areas is a Gandhian Principle. (Article 43)
- Statement 4 is incorrect: To promote the educational and economic interests of SCs, STs, and other weaker sections of the society. This is also a Gandhian principle. (Article 48)

Q.3)Ans: C

Exp:

- Statement 1 is correct: Article 335 states the claims of the members of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes shall be taken into consideration, consistently with the maintenance of efficiency of administration, in the making of appointments to services and posts in connection with the affairs of the Union or a State.
- Statement 2 is incorrect: Article 46 of Indian Constitution directs states to promote the educational and economic interests of SCs, STs, and other weaker sections and to protect them from social injustice and exploitation. This is a Gandhian Directive Principle.

- Statement 3 is incorrect: To promote international peace and security and maintain just and honourable relations between nations and to foster respect for international law and treaty obligations is liberal intellectual principle provided in Part IV of constitution.

Q.4) Ans: B

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: Directive principles of State Policy are directions provided by the constitution to the Government and administrative functionaries.
- Statement 2 is correct: The term justice in the Preamble embraces three distinct forms— social, economic and political. Social justice denotes the equal treatment of all citizens without any social discrimination. Economic justice denotes the non-discrimination between people on the basis of economic factors. Political justice implies that all citizens should have equal political right. The ideal of justice—social, economic and political—has been taken from the Russian Revolution.

Q.5)Ans: D

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: A writ of Certiorari means 'to be certified' or 'to be informed'. It is issued by a higher court to a lower court or tribunal either to transfer a case pending with the latter to itself or to squash the order of the latter in a case. It is issued on the grounds of excess of jurisdiction or lack of jurisdiction or error of law. Thus, unlike prohibition, which is only preventive, certiorari is both preventive as well as curative.
- Statement 2 is incorrect: A writ of Prohibition is issued by a superior court to an inferior court or tribunal to prevent it from exceeding its jurisdiction and to compel it to keep within the limits of its jurisdiction. It issued only against judicial and quasi- judicial authorities. It is not available against administrative authorities, legislative bodies, and private individuals or bodies.

Q.6) Ans: A

Exp:

The constitution entails the following rights under the Right to Freedom of Religion:

1. Article 25: Freedom of Conscience and Free Profession, Practice and Propagation of Religion
 2. Article 26: Freedom to Manage Religious Affairs
 3. Article 27: Freedom from Taxation for Promotion of a Religion
 4. Article 28: Freedom from Attending Religious Instruction
- Option 1 is Correct: Article 25 says that all persons are equally entitled to freedom of conscience and the right to freely profess, practice and propagate religion. These rights are available to all persons—citizens as well as noncitizens. Rights under these are subject to public order, morality, health and other provisions relating to fundamental rights.
 - Option 2 is incorrect: Article 29 mentions that any section of the citizens residing in any part of India having a distinct language, script or culture of its own, shall have the right to conserve the same. It is thus included under the CULTURAL AND EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS.
 - Option 3 is incorrect: Article 30 grants grants that all minorities (linguistic and religious) shall have the right to establish and administer educational institutions of their choice and that the State shall not discriminate against any educational institution managed by a minority while granting an aid. It is also included under the CULTURAL AND EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS.

Q.7) Ans: C

Exp:

- Statement 1 is correct: The Supreme Court has ruled that Article 32 is a basic feature of the Constitution. Hence, it cannot be abridged or taken away even by way of an amendment to the Constitution.
- Statement 2 is correct: Article 32 confers the right to remedies for the enforcement of the fundamental rights of an aggrieved citizen. That is why Dr. Ambedkar called Article 32 as the most important article of the Constitution— “an article without which this constitution would be a nullity. It is the very soul of the Constitution and the very heart of it “
- Statement 3 is incorrect: The right to move the Supreme Court only (The right to move the High court is safeguarded by Article 226 and not Article 32) for the enforcement of the Fundamental Rights is guaranteed.

- Statement 4 is correct: In case of the enforcement of Fundamental Rights, the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court is original but not exclusive. It is concurrent with the jurisdiction of the high court under Article 226. It vests original powers in the high court to issue directions, orders and writs of all kinds for the enforcement of the Fundamental Rights. However, the Supreme Court has ruled that where relief through the High court is available under Article 226, the aggrieved party should first move the high court.

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: Article 33 empowers the Parliament to restrict or abrogate the fundamental rights of the members of armed forces, paramilitary forces, police forces, intelligence agencies and analogous forces. The power is conferred only on Parliament and not on state legislatures.
- Statement 2 is correct: Various Acts such as the Army Act (1950), the Navy Act (1950), the Air Force Act (1950) etc. impose restrictions on their freedom of speech, right to form associations, right to be members of trade unions or political associations, right to communicate with the press etc. and ensures the proper discharge of their duties and the maintenance of discipline among them.
- Statement 3 is correct: In case of enforcement of fundamental rights, the jurisdiction of the supreme court is original but not exclusive. It is concurrent with jurisdiction of the high court under article 226. It vests original powers in the High Court to issue directions, orders and writs of all kinds for the enforcement of the fundamental rights. It means that on violation of fundamental rights, the aggrieved party has the option of moving either the high court or the supreme court

Exp:

- Statement 1 is correct: Article 34 provides for the restrictions on fundamental rights while martial law is in force. It empowers the Parliament to indemnify any government servant or any act done by him in connection with the maintenance or restoration of order where martial law is in force. The Parliament can also validate any sentence passed or punishment inflicted under martial law in such an area.
- Statement 2 is incorrect: There is no such provision mentioned in the constitution. However, during National Emergency the Govt. and the courts continue to function, irrespective of the grounds on which the emergency has been declared.
- Statement 3 is incorrect: The expression 'martial law' has not been defined anywhere in the Constitution. Literally, it means 'military rule'. It refers to a situation where civil administration is run by the military authorities according to their own rules and regulations framed outside the ordinary law. It thus implies the suspension of ordinary law and the government by military tribunals.

Q.11) Ans: A

Exp:

- Statement 1 is correct: Some of them are available only to the citizens while others are available to all persons whether citizens or foreigners or legal persons like corporations or companies. Some Fundamental Rights available to both Foreigners and citizens are Equality before law and equal protection of laws (Article 14), Protection in respect of conviction for offences (Article 20), Protection of life and personal liberty (article 21) and Right to elementary education (Article 21A) etc.
- Statement 2 is correct: All Rights are available against the law of the legislature. Arbitrary doctrine refers to acting in an unreasonable manner, as fixed or done at pleasure, without determining any methods or principle. The rights protect a person/citizen from any such arbitrariness.
- Statement 3 is correct: Some Fundamental rights are available against the action of private individuals. Article 15(2) prohibits discrimination in access to shops, public restaurants, hotels etc. This provision thus prohibits discrimination both by the State and private individuals. Similarly, The Supreme Court held that the right under Article 17 (Abolition of Untouchability) is available against private individuals. Article 23 (Prohibition of Traffic in Human Beings and Forced Labour) is also available against private individuals.
- Statement 4 is incorrect: They are not sacrosanct or permanent. The Parliament can curtail or repeal them but only by a constitutional amendment act and not by an ordinary act. Moreover, this can be done without affecting the 'basic structure' of the Constitution.

Q.12) Ans: D

Exp:

Article 35 of the Indian Constitution

Article 35 lays down that the power to make laws, to give effect to certain specified Fundamental rights shall vest only in the Parliament and not in the State legislatures. The Parliament shall have power (and the legislature of a state shall not have) to make laws with respect to the following matters:

- Prescribing residence as a condition for certain employments (Article 16)

Salient features of Directive Principles of State Policy:

- The Directive Principles along with the fundamental rights embody the philosophy of the constitution. The Directive Principles have been described as the conscience of the constitution.
- Directive Principles denote ideas that the state should keep in mind while formulating policies enacting laws for the welfare of the people. They aim at realising the ideals of justice, liberty, equality and fraternity as outlined in the Preamble of the constitution
- Directive principles are non-justiciable in nature. They are not legally enforceable by the courts for their violation. The government cannot be Compelled to implement them even though they are fundamental in the Governance of the country
- Despite their non-justiciable nature, the Directive Principles help the courts in examining and determining the constitutional validity of law. The Supreme Court has ruled many times that in determining the constitutionality of any law if a court finds that the law in question seeks to give effect to directive principle, it may consider such law to be reasonable in relation to Article 14 or article 19
- They can come in direct conflict with the Fundamental Rights of the citizen. This problem arose when the government sought to pass laws to abolish the zamindari system. These measures were opposed on the ground that they violated the right to property (which was a fundamental right back then)

- Statement 2 is incorrect: Fusion of the power is one of the features of a Parliamentary form of Government as in a parliamentary system executive and legislature are together and inseparable. Separation of power is the feature of the Presidential form of government.

- Statement 3 is incorrect: Dissolution of the lower house is one of the features of a Parliamentary form of Government. As the lower house i.e. Lok Sabha can be dissolved by the president on recommendation of the prime minister.

Exp:

- Option 1 is Correct: Dictatorship of the cabinet is one of the demerits of the parliamentary form of government as when the ruling party enjoys the absolute majority in the parliament cabinet can become Autocratic and exercise nearly unlimited power.
- Option 2 is Correct: Government by the amateur is one of the demerits of the parliamentary form of government as the Ministers are not expert in their fields.
- Option 3 is incorrect: Parliamentary form of Government is based on fusion of power which goes against the separation of power.
- Option 4 is Correct: One of the demerits of Parliamentary form of Government is that it does not provide a guarantee of a stable government as there is no guarantee that government can survive its tenure. A no confidence motion or political defection can make the government unstable.

Q.57) Ans: B

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: In unitary form of Government constitution can be written as in France or unwritten as in Britain
- Statement 2 is Correct: In unitary form of Government there is no division of power all the power vested with the national government
- Statement 3 is incorrect: In unitary form of Government Judiciary may be independent or may not be independent

Q.58) Ans: B

Exp:

- Option 1 is Correct: Presence of all India services is one of the unitary features of the Indian Constitution. Officers of all India services serve their respected state cadre but they are recruited and trained by the centre which also possesses the ultimate control over them. Hence this services violate the principle of federalism.
- Option 2 is Correct: In India Election Commission conducts the election not only of the Central legislature but also the state legislature. But this body is constituted by the president and state has no control over it. Hence it is one of the unitary features of Indian constitution

- Option 3 is Correct: In India the process of constitutional amendment is less rigid than the other Federation as the bulk of the Constitution can be amended by the unilateral action of a parliament either by the simple majority or by the special majority. Further state legislature have no power to initiate the Constitutional Amendment
- Option 4 is incorrect: Supremacy of the constitution is a federal feature of a constitution not a unitary feature

Q.59) Ans: C

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: Indian federation is an indestructible Union of destructible states. As the states in India have no right to territorial integrity. The Parliament can by unilateral action change the area, boundaries or name of any state which only requires a simple majority.
- Statement 2 is incorrect: American Federation is an indestructible Union of indestructible states.

Q.60) Ans: C

Exp:

- Option A is correct: Article 29 provides that any section of the citizens residing in any part of India having a distinct language, script or culture of its own, shall have the right to conserve the same. The Supreme Court held that the scope of this article is not necessarily restricted to minorities only. This is because of the use of the words 'section of citizens' in the Article that include minorities as well as majority.
- Option B is correct: 44th Amendment Act provided that rights under Article 20 and 21 are enforceable even during emergency.
- Option C is incorrect: The term 'untouchability' has not been defined either in the Constitution or in the Protection of Civil Rights Act, 1955. The Mysore High Court held that the subject matter of Article 17 is not untouchability in its literal or grammatical sense but the 'practice as it had developed historically in the country'.
- Option D is correct: Rights under Article 15, 16, 19, 29 and 30 are available to citizens only and are denied to non-citizens.

Q.61) Ans: D

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: Article 21 of the Constitution provides that no person shall be deprived of his life or personal liberty except according to the procedure established by law. The Supreme Court had introduced the concept of 'due process of law' in the Maneka Gandhi case (1978).
- Statement 2 is incorrect: The Supreme Court has declared right to privacy (in Puttuswamy Case) and right to internet (in Anuradha Bhasin v. Union of India case) as fundamental rights. But the right to privacy is declared as a fundamental right under Article 21, whereas the right to the internet is under Article 19 of the Constitution.
- Statement 3 is correct: Article 21 is the only article of the Constitution that has received widest possible interpretation with the Supreme Court declaring various rights such as right to health, right to education up to 14 years of age, right to speedy trial, right to fair trial, right to free legal aid etc. as fundamental rights under it.

Q.62) Ans: B

Exp:

- Option A is correct – Article 37 provides that DPSPs are fundamental in governance of the country.
- Option B is incorrect – To protect and improve the natural environment including forests, lakes, rivers and wildlife and to have compassion for living creatures is a fundamental duty under Article 51A (g) of the Constitution.
- Option C is correct - Directive Principles, though non-justiciable in nature, help the courts in examining and determining the constitutional validity of a law. The Supreme Court has ruled many a times that in determining the constitutional validity of any law, if a court finds that the law in question seeks to give effect to a Directive Principle, it may consider such law to be 'reasonable' in relation to Article 14 or 19 and thus save such law from unconstitutionality.
- Option D is correct - Article 50 provides that "The State shall take steps to separate the judiciary from the executive in the public services of the State."

Reference - Laxmikanth

Q.63) Ans: C

Exp:

- Option A is incorrect: The lower house of the Parliament can be dissolved by the President on the recommendations of the Prime Minister.
- Option B is incorrect: The President is the head of the State, while the Prime Minister is the head of the government.
- Option C is correct: Article 74 provides for a Council of Ministers headed by the Prime Minister to aid and advise the President in the exercise of his functions. The 42nd and 44th Constitutional Amendments have made the ministerial advice binding on the President.
- Option D is incorrect: In case the ruling party loses its majority in the lower house, the leader of opposition does not automatically become the Prime Minister. He/she has to prove his/her majority in the lower house.

Q.64) Ans: A

Exp:

- Option A is correct: The Preamble provides the source of authority of the Constitution as the people of India.
- Option B is incorrect: The Preamble provides liberty of thought, expression, belief, faith and worship.
- Option C is incorrect: The Preamble has been amended only once through 42nd Constitutional Amendment Act, 1976 which added three new words—Socialist, Secular and Integrity—to the Preamble.
- Option D is incorrect: In the Berubari Union case, the Supreme Court held that the Preamble is not a part of the Constitution. It is in the Kesavananda Bharati case that the Supreme Court held that the Preamble is part of the Constitution.

Q.65) Ans: C

Exp:

- The directive for separation of the judiciary from the executive has been provided under Article 50, which was part of the original Constitution.
- The directive to secure opportunities for healthy development of children has been provided under Article 39(f), which was added through 42nd Constitutional Amendment Act, 1976.
- In the Minerva Mills Case (1980), the Supreme court held that the Indian constitution is founded on the bedrock of the balance between the fundamental rights and directive principle.

- Provision for consequential seniority in promotion in favour of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes under Article 16(4A) was added through 85th Constitutional Amendment Act, 2001.

Q.66) Ans: B

Exp:

- Statement 1 is correct: Article 42 of the Constitution provides that the State shall make provision for just and humane conditions of work and maternity relief
- Statement 2 is incorrect: Article 51A(f) assigns every citizen a fundamental duty to value and preserve the rich heritage of the country's composite culture.
- Statement 3 is incorrect: Article 51A(c) assigns every citizen a fundamental duty to uphold and protect the sovereignty, unity and integrity of India
- Statement 4 is correct: Article 47 of the Constitution provides "Duty of the State to raise the level of nutrition and the standard of living and to improve public health".

Q.67) Ans: D

Exp:

- Statement 1 is incorrect: The Democratic polity in India is based on the Doctrine of popular sovereignty, i.e. the possession of the supreme power by the people. However, India is not a direct democracy but an indirect (representative) democracy where people elect their representatives to exercise the supreme power and thus carry on the government and make the laws.
- Statement 2 is incorrect: Referendum is a procedure whereby a proposed legislation is referred to the electorate for settlement by their direct votes. There is no provision in the Constitution for holding a referendum. Elections are held every five years, where everybody exercises their voting right.
- Statement 3 is correct: The term 'democratic' is used in the Preamble in the broader sense embracing not only political democracy but also social and economic democracy.
