Q.32) With reference to the special powers that can be exercised by the Rajya Sabha, consider the following statements.

1. Rajya Sabha can pass a resolution to propose the creation of the All-India services.
2. Only Rajya Sabha can initiate the process of removal of the Vice-President of India.

Which of the statements given above is/are correct?

- a) 1 and 2 only
- b) 2 and 3 only
- c) 1 and 3 only
- d) 1, 2 and 3

Ans) d

Exp) Option d is correct.

The position of the Rajya Sabha in our constitutional system is not as weak as that of the House of Lords in the British constitutional system nor as strong as that of the Senate in the American constitutional system. This is because the Rajya Sabha has following exclusive or special powers that are not enjoyed by the Lok Sabha. These are:

Statement 1 is correct. It can authorise the Parliament to create new All-India Services common to both the Centre and states. The Parliament can create it if the Rajya Sabha passes a resolution declaring that it is necessary or expedient in the national interest to do so. Such a resolution in the Rajya Sabha should be supported by two-thirds of the members present and voting. This power of recommendation is given to the Rajya Sabha to protect the interests of states in the Indian federal system. (Article 312)

Statement 2 is correct. It alone can initiate a move for the removal of the vice-president. In other words, a resolution for the removal of the vice-president can be introduced only in the Rajya Sabha and not in the Lok Sabha (Article 67).

Statement 3 is correct. If a proclamation has been issued by the President for imposing national emergency or president's rule or financial emergency when the Lok Sabha has been dissolved or the dissolution of the Lok Sabha took place within the period allowed for its approval. Then such a proclamation remains effective even if it is approved by the Rajya Sabha alone. Thus, Rajya Sabha alone can approve or disapprove the proclamation of the national emergency or president's rule or financial emergency when the Lok Sabha has been dissolved.

- a) 1 only
- b) 2 only
- c) Both 1 and 2
- d) Neither 1 nor 2

Ans) d

Exp) Option d is correct.

Statement 1 is incorrect. There is no uniformity in the organisation of state legislatures. It is because constitution provides for the abolition or creation of a legislative council to enable a state to have a second chamber or not according to its own willingness and financial strength. Thus, most of the states did not create the second chamber. They have a unicameral system. The twenty-two states have unicameral system. While others have a bicameral system.

Statement 2 is incorrect. The Parliament is empowered to create (where it does not exist) or abolish a legislative council (where it already exists). The state government can only recommend to the parliament to do so. The parliament can act accordingly, if the legislative assembly of the concerned state passes a resolution to that effect with a special majority (a majority of the total membership of the assembly and a majority of not less than two-thirds of the members of the assembly present and voting).

Q.34) Which of the following states presently have a legislative council?

1. Andhra Pradesh
2. Jammu and Kashmir
3. Telangana
4. Bihar
5. Karnataka
6. Gujarat

Select the correct answer from the codes given below:

- a) 1, 2, 4 and 5 only
- b) 1, 3, 4, 5 and 6 only
- c) 1, 3, 4 and 5 only
- d) 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 only

Ans) c

Exp) Option c is correct.

As of January 2020, Total 6 out of 28 states have a legislative council. The states with bicameral legislature include Andhra Pradesh, Bihar, Karnataka, Maharashtra, Telangana and Uttar Pradesh (UP). It means, these states have both the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly. Jammu & Kashmir Legislative Council, the upper house of the Assembly, has been abolished as per Section 57 of the J&K Reorganisation Act, 2019. The Tamil Nadu Legislative Council Act, 2010 has not come into force. The Legislative Council in Andhra Pradesh was revived by the Andhra Pradesh Legislative Council Act, 2005. The 7th Amendment Act of 1956 provided for a Legislative Council in Madhya Pradesh. However, a notification to this effect has to be made by the President. So far, no such notification has been made. Hence, Madhya Pradesh continues to have one House only.

Q.35) Which of one of the following statements correctly describe the initiative named 'AgriStack'?

- It is a digital platform created for effective grievance redressal of agriculture related difficulties faced by farmers in India.
- It is a collection of technologies and digital databases that focuses on farmers and the agricultural sector.
- It is an informal cooperative group of farmers in India that aims to mobilize farmers against the use of Genetically modified crops.
- It is a digital storehouse of genome sequence of every indigenous variety of seeds found in India.

Ans) b

Exp) Option b is correct.

AgriStack is a collection of technologies and digital databases that focuses on farmers and the agricultural sector. It will create a unified platform for farmers to provide them end to end services across the agriculture food value chain.

The project will collect granular data to provide growers with a range of customized services. Like, what to plant, where to sell, market information on price movements, and linkages to formal credit arrangements. Each farmer will be provided a unique farmer's ID, which will be linked to her Aadhaar number.

It will contain details related to land ownership, the crops she grows, soil health and the benefits available under government schemes such as direct cash transfers, crop insurance and subsidized credit.

Q.36) With reference to State Legislatures in India, consider the following statements:

- The strength of State Legislatures has been fixed at 600 by the Constitution.
- There is no upper limit on the reservation for SC/ ST in the State Legislatures.
- The reservation for Anglo Indians in State Legislatures has been discontinued.
- The maximum size of a Legislative Council is linked to the strength of the Legislative Assembly.

Which of the statements given above is/ are correct?

- 1, 2 and 3 only
- 2, 3 and 4 only
- 3 and 4 only
- 1, 2, 3 and 4

Ans) b

Exp) Option b is correct.

Statement 1 is incorrect: The Constitution has not fixed the strength of State Legislative Assemblies at one particular size. It has just prescribed a range, with the minimum strength being 60 and the maximum limit set at 500. The actual size is dependent on the population size of the state.

Statement 2 is correct: The Constitution has made provisions for reservation of seats in State Legislative Assemblies for people belonging to SC/ ST communities in order to provide them due representation. There is no upper or lower limit on the number of seats reserved for them. Rather the number of seats reserved for members of SC/ ST communities is dependent and proportional to their population compared to the total population of the state.

Statement 3 is correct: The Constitution had provided for reservation of 1 member from the Anglo-Indian community in the State Legislative Assembly. It is not a compulsory provision, but rather it is at the discretion of the Governor, if he feels the community is inadequately represented. This provision was originally supposed to last only until 1960. However, it has been extended subsequently every 10 years. However, in 2019, the 104th Constitution Amendment Act scrapped this reservation as it was deemed to have run out of its utility. So, there is no reservation for the Anglo-Indian community in State Legislatures as of today.

Statement 4 is correct: The Constitution states that the minimum strength of the Legislative Council is to be 40, while the maximum has been fixed at $\frac{1}{3}$ of the total strength of the legislative assembly. Thus, the size of the Legislative Council is linked to the strength of the Legislative Assembly.

2. $\frac{1}{3}$ th of the members are directly elected by the people while the rest are elected indirectly.
3. Members of the local bodies elect $\frac{1}{3}$ rd of the members in the Council.

Which of the statements given above is/ are correct?

- a) 1 only
- b) 2 and 3 only
- c) 1 and 3 only
- d) 1, 2 and 3

Ans) c

Exp) Option c is correct.

The Constitution has made the provision to bring a Second/ Upper House into the existence in a State Legislature, if the State Legislative Assembly so desires. The Constitution has also made provisions for the composition of the Legislative Council so formed.

Statement 1 is correct: While $\frac{1}{3}$ th of the members are elected, about $\frac{2}{3}$ th of the members of the legislative council are nominated by the Governor.

Statement 2 is incorrect: None of the members of the Legislative Council are directly elected by the people. $\frac{2}{3}$ th of the members are elected indirectly, while $\frac{1}{3}$ th of the members are nominated.

Statement 3 is correct: $\frac{1}{3}$ rd of the members of the Council are elected by the elected members of the local bodies of the state like municipalities, district boards, etc.

Q.38) With reference to the Speaker of the State Legislative Assembly, consider the following statements:

1. He/she is the Chairman of the Rules Committee of the Legislative Assembly
2. He/she can be removed only on grounds of proved misbehaviour or incapacity

Which of the statements given above is/ are correct?

- a) 1 only
- b) 2 only
- c) Both 1 and 2
- d) Neither 1 nor 2

Ans) a

Exp) Option a is correct.

The Speaker is the main Presiding Officer of the State Legislative Assembly. The Constitution has well defined provisions regarding his election, removal and his duties in Part VI of the Constitution.

Statement 1 is correct: The Speaker is by default the Chairperson of 3 Committees of the Legislative Assembly, one of which is the Rules Committee. The other two are the Business Advisory Committee and the General Purpose Committee.

Statement 2 is incorrect: A sitting Judge of the Supreme Court or High Court (not the Speaker) is removed on the grounds of proved misbehaviour or incapacity. The Speaker may be removed for any reason mentioned in a resolution, by the members of the Legislative Assembly passed by a majority of the then members of the assembly. He can also be removed if he stops being a member of the assembly (gets disqualified) according to the Representation of People Act, 1951.

Q.39) With reference to the procedure for passage of ordinary bills of State Legislative Assembly, consider the following statements:

1. All Bills need to be approved by both the Governor and the President.
2. The President doesn't have to compulsorily give assent to a Bill returned for his reconsideration.

Which of the statements given above is/ are correct?

- a) 1 only
- b) 2 only
- c) Both 1 and 2
- d) Neither 1 nor 2

Ans) b

Exp) Option b is correct.

Part VI of the Constitution deals with the legislative procedures regarding the passage of ordinary bills in the State Legislature.

Statement 1 is incorrect: Normally, all Bills of the State Legislative Assemblies need the assent of the Governor only to become a law. However, according to Article 201, the Governor has the discretionary power to reserve any of the Bills for the President's approval. Once reserved for the President's approval, the future of such a Bill lies with the President only and the Governor's role ends.

Statement 2 is correct: When the President receives a State Legislative Assembly Bill, he can either give his assent, withhold it, or send back the Bill for reconsideration (if it is not a Money Bill). The Assembly then may make the amendments or not and give the Bill back to the President a second time for assent. The Constitution however does not specify whether it is mandatory for the President to give his assent the second time or not. So technically the President has a Veto on Ordinary State Bills. This is in contrast to his powers with respect to assent of a Parliamentary Bill. If the Parliament returns a Bill for a second time, with or without suggested amendments, the President is constitutionally bound to give assent to it. Also, the Constitution has not prescribed any limit on the number of days within which the President has to provide his assent on an Ordinary State Bill, thus giving him Pocket Veto as well.

Q.40) Consider the following statements regarding the 'Biological and Toxin Weapons Convention':

2. It is the first multilateral disarmament treaty to ban an entire category of weapons of mass destruction.
3. The treaty bans the development and transfer of biological agents or toxins that have no justification for peaceful uses.
4. Biological and Toxin Weapon Committee under United Nations Security Council is the implementation body of the Convention.

Which of the statements given above are correct?

- a) 1, 2 and 3 only
- b) 1, 3 and 4 only
- c) 2 and 4 only
- d) 1, 2, 3 and 4

Ans) a

Exp) Option a is correct.

Statement 1 is correct. The Biological and Toxin Weapons Convention (BTWC) opened for signature in 1972 and entered into force in 1975. The 45th anniversary of the entry into force of the Biological Weapons Convention was observed on March 26, 2020. It currently has 183 states. India signed the convention in 1973.

Statement 2 is correct. Biological and Toxin Weapons Convention, 1972 is the first multilateral disarmament treaty to ban an entire category of weapons of mass destruction.

Statement 3 is correct. The major goal of the convention is to address Weapons of Mass Destruction proliferation and it has established a strong norm against biological weapons.

The treaty bans the development or acquire or transfer of a) biological agents or toxins that have no justification for peaceful uses and b) weapons or equipment designed to use such agents or toxins for hostile purposes.

There is a review conference every five years to review the convention's implementation, and establish confidence-building measures.

Q.41) With reference to the rights given by the constitution to the members of State Legislative Assemblies, consider the following statements:

1. The Advocate General has the right to speak and take part in the proceeding of the House.
 2. The Ministers have the right to participate and vote in the meetings of all the committees of the House.
- Which of the statements given above is/ are correct?

- a) 1 only
- b) 2 only
- c) Both 1 and 2
- d) Neither 1 nor 2

Ans) a

Exp) Option a is correct.

Statement 1 is correct: Despite not being a member of the State Legislative Assembly, the Constitution (Article 177) has given the right to the Advocate General to speak and take part in the proceedings of the House, whenever he/ she wishes.

Statement 2 is incorrect: Every minister shall have the right to speak and take part in the proceedings of the Assembly (and also the Council where it exists) and any Committee of the State Legislature of which he may be named a member. But he shall not be entitled to vote.

Q.42) With reference to the State Legislatures in India, consider the following statements:

1. There are no provisions for Joint Sittings of the house for the passage of the bill.
2. No Bills can originate in the Legislative Council.
3. The Legislative Council can only delay a Bill and not prevent its passage.

Which of the statements given above are correct?

- a) 1 and 2 only
- b) 2 and 3 only
- c) 1 and 3 only
- d) 1, 2 and 3

Ans) c

Exp) Option c is correct.

Article 196 in Part VI of the Constitution as well as the Rules of Procedure the House deal with the legislative procedures in a State Legislature. These provisions decide how a Bill is to be introduced and passed in the State Legislature

Statement 1 is correct: Unlike the Parliament, the Constitution does not make any provisions allowing the Speaker to convene a Joint Sitting of both the Houses of the State Legislature (Assembly and Council). This is because the procedure for passage of a Bill in State Legislature is such that there is no occasion of a deadlock occurring, hence there is no need of a Joint Session.

Statement 2 is incorrect: Just like in the Parliament, an Ordinary Bill can originate in either House of the State Legislature. So this statement is incorrect as an Ordinary Bill can originate in the Legislative Council.

SFG 2022 | LEVEL 2 | Test 5 – Solutions | ForumIAS

Statement 3 is correct: The Upper House of the State Legislature, (the Legislative Council) has lesser power than the Lower House of the State Legislature (Legislative Assembly) with respect to the passage of an Ordinary Bill. When sent by the Assembly to the Council, the Council can only suggest amendments. The Assembly will then resend the Bill - with or without amendments. If the Council rejects this re-sent Bill, or suggests further amendments not accepted by the Assembly, the Bill still is deemed to have been passed. So it does not matter whether the Council approves of the Bill or not, the Bill can be passed according to the will of the Assembly. The Council can only delay it, or suggest some changes, that are up to the discretion of the Assembly to be included or rejected. Also it must be noted that if a Bill initiated by the Legislative Council is sent back by the Legislative Assembly with amendments that are not acceptable to the Council, the Bill ends there and then.

This is in contrast to The Upper House of the Parliament (the Rajya Sabha) which has power equal to the Lower House of the Parliament (Lok Sabha) in matters of passage of Ordinary Bills. The RS can create a deadlock by not accepting the Bill re-sent by the Lok Sabha, in which case a Joint Sitting is convened to resolve the fate of the Bill.

Select the correct answer using the code given below:

- a) 1 and 2 only
- b) 2 only
- c) 1 and 3 only
- d) 1, 2 and 3

Ans) a

Exp) Option a is correct.

Article 194 of the Constitution provides for the special rights, immunities and exemptions enjoyed by the members of the State Legislature individually, as well as collectively in order to secure their effectiveness and independence in the discharge of their responsibilities.

Option 1 is correct: As a part of the Collective Privileges conferred by the constitution on the Houses of the State Legislature, the Houses are entitled to bar strangers from its proceedings and hold secret meetings on sensitive matters.

Option 2 is correct: As a part of the Collective Privileges conferred by the constitution on the Houses of the State Legislature, the Houses are entitled to arrest (in addition to reprimanding) any person for its contempt. This also applies to a member of the House who has been found guilty of breach of privilege. Such a member may be reprimanded, suspended, expelled or imprisoned.

Option 3 is incorrect: One of the Individual Privileges conferred by the constitution on the members of the House is that they cannot be arrested while the session of the House is ongoing as well as for a period of 40 days preceding and after the session. However this privilege is applicable only in case of arrests for civil cases and not criminal cases or preventive detention.

Knowledge Base: The Constitution extends the privileges it offers to its members to people that are entitled to speak and take part in the proceedings of the House and/ or its committees. - b) 2, 3 and 4 only
- c) 2 and 3 only
- d) 1, 2, 3 and 4

Ans) b

Exp) Option b is correct.

Just like in the Parliament the Upper House (Legislative Council) and the Lower House (Legislative Assembly) of the State Legislature have separate roles and different powers with regards to various legislative business like Ordinances, reports, Bills, etc. In some matters their powers are equal, and in some cases that of the Legislative Council is decidedly lesser than that of the Legislative Assembly.

Option 1 is incorrect: The Final power regarding passing of an Ordinary Bill is more with the Legislative Assembly, than the Council. The Council can only delay the Bill or suggest amendments. It is the form finally chosen by the Assembly in which the Ordinary Bill is considered as passed, regardless of the decision of the Council.

Option 2 is correct: The majority opinion of both the Legislative Assembly and the Legislative Council have equal weightage in deciding whether to increase the jurisdiction of the State Public Services Commission or not.

Option 3 is correct: Ordinances introduced by the Governor require the approval of both the Houses of the State Legislature. So, their powers in this regard are equal.

Option 4 is correct: The reports presented by Constitutional Bodies like the State Financial Commission, etc are discussed by both the Houses of the State Legislature.

Q.46) Which of the following are the options available to the State Legislative Council once the State Legislative Assembly passes a Bill and transmits it?

- 2. Not take any action for 6 months.
- 3. Reject the bill altogether
- 4. Keep returning the Bill creating a deadlock

Select the correct option using the code given below:

SFG 2022 | LEVEL 2 | Test 5 – Solutions |

- a) 1, 3 and 4 only
- b) 1 and 3 only
- c) 2 and 3 only
- d) 1, 2 and 4 only

Ans) b

Exp) Option b is correct.

Article 196 and 197 of the constitution have provisions regarding the legislative procedures for introduction and passing of an Ordinary Bill in the State Legislature as well as the roles of the two Houses in this process. This includes the restrictions on the Legislative Council with regards to this process.

Option 1 is correct: The constitution has made a provision for a Legislative Council at state level, so that all legislations are well deliberated and not passed in an undue haste. So the Legislative Council has been given the right as well as the duty of considering a Bill and suggesting amendments and returning the Bill for reconsideration to the Assembly.

If the Assembly accepts the amendments, the Bill is deemed to have been passed. Or the Assembly may reject the amendments and resend the Bill to the Council, which may again propose amendments. If these 2nd round of amendments too are not acceptable to the Assembly, then the Bill is deemed to have been passed in the form that the Assembly passed it.

Option 2 is incorrect: This statement is incorrect as the Legislative Council has the option to not take any action on the Bill sent to it by the Assembly for 3 months (not 6 months). After the lapse of this time period, the Assembly passes the same Bill and again transmits the Bill for passage by the Council.

Option 3 is correct: The Legislative Council has been given the authority to outright reject a Bill without sending it for the Assembly's reconsideration. In case that happens, the Assembly passes the same Bill and again transmits the Bill for passage by the Council. If the Council again rejects the bill, then after the second rejection, the Bill is deemed to have been automatically passed in the form that the Assembly passed it.

Option 4 is incorrect: Once the Bill has been returned by the Assembly (post outright rejection or post 3 month delay or after disagreement over the amendments), the Council can only delay it for 1 month more by not taking any action. After that the Bill ultimately is deemed to have been passed in the form that the Assembly passed it. So, there is no scope of a deadlock.

2. It can be introduced only in the Lower House in both Parliament and State Legislature.
3. Rajya Sabha can amend it, the Legislative Council can't.

Which of the statements given above is/ are correct?

- a) 1 and 2 only
- b) 2 and 3 only

Ans) a

Exp) Option a is correct.

Article 109 as well as Article 198 of the Constitution details the provisions with respect to the legislative procedure regarding the introduction and passage of a Money Bill in the Parliament and the State Legislature respectively.

Statement 1 is correct: Money Bill in both the Parliament and the State Legislature require prior recommendation for their introduction. In case of the Parliament, it is the prior recommendation of the President, while in case of the State Legislature it is the Governor's prior recommendation.

This is the only point of difference in the legislative procedure for passage of money bills in the Parliament vs in the State Legislatures. All the other provisions are the same.

SFG 2022 | LEVEL 2 | Test 5 – Solutions |

Statement 2 is correct: A money bill can only be introduced in the Lower House of both, the Parliament (i.e. Lok Sabha) and the State Legislature (i.e. Legislative Assembly).

Statement 3 is incorrect: The Upper House of neither the Parliament (i.e. Rajya Sabha) nor the State Legislature (i.e. Legislative Council) can neither amend nor reject a money bill. They can only give recommendations which the respective Lower House may or may not incorporate. Ultimately it is the form which the Lower House finalises it, that the Bill is passed.

Q.50) “This emerging technology works on the idea that data needs to be stored locally, in real-time without latency rather than send it far away to a centralised data centre. This proximity to data at its source can deliver strong business benefits, including faster insights, improved response times and better bandwidth availability.”

Which one of the following technologies is described in the above given paragraph?

- a) Machine Learning
- b) Big Data Analytics
- c) Edge Computing
- d) Natural Language Processing

Ans) c

Exp) Option c is correct.

Edge computing is a distributed information technology (IT) architecture in which client data is processed at the periphery of the network, as close to the originating source as possible. The idea is to analyse data locally closer to where it is stored, in real-time without latency rather than send it far away to a centralised data centre.

It saves bandwidth, since data is not being sent on the network. For example, in facial recognition and motion analytics cameras, images require massive bandwidth. The edge processor can process images and send the processed data to the data centre for further analytics, reducing traffic.

Option a is incorrect.

Machine learning is a branch of artificial intelligence (AI) and computer science which focuses on the use of data and algorithms to imitate the way that humans learn, gradually improving its accuracy.

Option b is incorrect.

Big data analytics is the use of advanced analytic techniques against very large, diverse data sets that include structured, semi-structured and unstructured data, from different sources, and in different sizes from terabytes to zettabytes.

Option d is incorrect.

Natural Language Processing is a field of AI that enables computers to analyze and understand human language. Speech-to-text converts human language into a programming language. Text-to-speech converts a computer operation to an audible response.
